

Colley-Delaney, Emma Lou Branham

Emma Lou Branham Colley-Delaney, 72, of Paris died Tuesday, Dec. 9, 2014, at St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville.

No services are scheduled at this time.

Colley-Delaney was born March 12, 1942, in Haysi, Va., to the late Luster and Dova Willis Branham.

She was married Nov. 27, 2010, to Mac Delaney, who survives.

She was a member of Old Regular Baptist Church. A family member said she had many friends, too numerous to mention.

Along with her husband, she is survived by a son: Benjamin Colley of Paris; and a stepdaughter: Miranda Delaney of Paris; two brothers: Mack (Kitty) Branham and Roy Branham, both of Florida.

She was preceded in death by her first husband Bobby Carl Colley in 1994, two brothers: Bill and Bob Branham; and a sister.

Emma was a graduate of Haysi High School, Haysi, VA with the Class of 1960. She was loved by all her classmates. She will be missed each time the class gets together each year.

Arrangements are being handled by McEvoy Funeral Home.
